

BRIDFAS of Hamburg e.V

is a British society specialising in cultural heritage and the arts.

We looking for a young person with experience of Facebook and social media to set up a Facebook page for our organisation in Hamburg and keep it up to date. You would need to have fluent English skills, excellent computer knowledge and preferably an interest in the arts (eg sculpture, painting, archeology, music, antiques).

We cannot offer payment for this job, but you could join our monthly lectures for free and gain the experience of working with older people in a successful Verein.
